Our history

RM Begg aged care home's proud history is steeped in the philanthropic legacy of Miss Ray McGregor Begg who, prior to her death in 1956, established the 'Ray M. Begg Home for the Aged' committee.

A teacher and the owner of a private school in High Street, Kyneton, Miss Begg's intention was to leave a substantial bequest in her will to further support and advance aged care opportunities and services for the local community. To support this endeavour, she left the balance of her estate to the newly formed committee – that is, the weatherboard schoolhouse (that still stands proudly in place today) and the land surrounding it.

In the years after her death, Miss Begg's vision was brought to life by the Kyneton Lions Club, supported by a groundswell of community support. After many working bees and extensive community fundraising, the Ray M Begg 'flats' were opened in November 1959.

The Lions Club continued to work towards the betterment of the home and in 1961 the committee decided to purchase the 3.5 acres of land across the road from Miss Begg's Schoolhouse for future development.

With the establishment of the units now complete, the committee decided to look into the possibility of building the next stage – the hostel.

In 1976, the Daffodil Festival Committee donated $21,202 towards a feasibility study around forward planning. In 1978/79, the hostel was subsequently built (A & B wings) and the first 28 residents moved in throughout 1979. Dame Margaret Guilfoyle officially opened the Hostel on 10 February 1980.

Building work continued and, by 1981, there were 45 funded beds in operation. In 2000, the 'Safe Wing' was developed, to support and meet advancements in dementia care. In 2002, RM Begg gained funding for its two unfunded beds to give a total of 58 funded beds and three respite beds.

On 25 November 2012, RM Begg opened stage one of its brand-new purpose-built facility. In 2023, RM Begg merged with Respect, with the latter taking on management of its operations following a period of positive community consultation.

Today, the home stands as a leading provider of aged care services for the Kyneton community and its surrounding areas. RM Begg's rich history is a testament to its commitment to the wellbeing of local families, and Respect is proud to continue that tradition today.

Steps on the path to aged care living

Before becoming a resident at RM Begg it's important for you and your loved ones to have an open, honest discussion about your needs and budget. For many, moving to residential aged care can be a significant lifestyle change that comes with many questions. Before you begin your journey, there are a couple of steps you can take to assess if this is the right move for you.

1. Determine your eligibility

To determine if you're eligible for aged care, you will need to be assessed by the Aged Care Assessment Service (ACAS) through My Aged Care, the Australian Government body responsible for aged care services.

This can be organised through a doctor, social worker, or health professional. For more information on Aged Care Assessments, you can speak with your doctor or a member of our helpful Customer Service team on 1300 144 144.

2. Find the right home

Everyone is different and that's why an aged care home that's a perfect fit for one person isn't necessarily the perfect fit for another.

Finding the right aged care home is all about personal preferences, specific requirements, and aesthetic taste. That's why at Respect, we create our homes to offer something for everyone and to be as accommodating as possible.

You can book a tour of RM Begg, or any of our Respect aged care homes to allow you to speak with residents and members of staff to provide a well-rounded view of what we offer.

3. Understand costs

Your own personal circumstances and financial situation will influence the amount you pay for an aged care facility. The Government determines how much you pay or may be required to contribute.

To better understand the costs associated with residential aged care, we recommend seeking financial advice before applying. The cost of residential aged care consists of care fees and accommodation fees, which are explained below:

- Basic daily fee: This fee covers living costs, such as meals, electricity, and laundry.
- Means-based fee: This fee is calculated by the Department of Human Services based on your income and assets and is a contribution to the cost of your personal and clinical care.

- Accommodation payment: Paid through an upfront amount, daily payment or a combination of both, this cost includes the room that you will occupy.

- Additional service fee: Some services are included in our Additional Services package, which incurs a mandatory additional fee. Additional Services packages are offered in selected Respect Aged Care homes, for a full list of services and their estimated costs, please contact us.

4. Apply to live at RM Begg

After determining your eligibility and understanding fees, all prospective residents need to complete and submit an application. You may fill out an application in person at any of our homes. We recommend that you fill out an application with the assistance of your doctor and/or loved ones.

5. Move in

As soon as we've determined that we can meet your needs and have a suitable vacancy, you will be notified with an offer of residence, along with a move-in date. If there are no current vacancies, we'll let you know when a space becomes available. You will be provided with a Resident Agreement, which outlines the services, fees, rights, and responsibilities. This legal document will need to be signed and returned before moving in.

We're here, every step of the way

At Respect, we know that choosing the right aged care home can be a daunting task. We can help with navigating the assessment process and the necessary paperwork to make your transition to residential aged care a breeze.
